Cloud Revises School Income Tax Measure

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Salem News Staff Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio — House Speaker Roger Cloud's pet school proposal, shunned by education groups as a tax monster, is being tamed in hopes it can be turned loose in this session of the Ohio Legislature.

Will Come to Salem Aug. 15

British Girl To Be Exchange Student

A brown-haired British girl with a yen for modern languages will be Salem's new American Foreign Service student next fall.

Judith Elizabeth Callaway of Surrey, Eng., land, will live with the Carl W. Krichbaum family of 793 E. 6th St. while pursuing her senior studies at Salem Senior High School.

Judith, whose hometown is Ewell, about 25 miles south of London, is the Judy Callaway daughter of a master tailor and director of a firm of hosiers.

She is now a student in the Lower 6 class at the Sutton High School for Girls, a Girls' Public Day School Trust, in Sutton, Surrey.

The new foreign student has under the knife for a second major operation which would limit its application to technical institute and vocational school districts.

Designed for Schools

As originally conceived by Cloud, the proposal was designed to give local school districts another avenue to operating funds. It was introduced in that form early in the session by Rep. Gail Porterfield, R-Knox, but met such a storm of opposition that it was shuttled swiftly to a subcommittee for rewriting.

It came back to Cloud last month, broadened to include any number of school districts in one or more counties.

But the speaker has had some second thoughts. He still considers the original intent sound, but has decided to exclude local school districts. The idea now is to give technical and vocational districts the option of asking the voters for income tax levies up to 1 per cent.

Would Aid Tech Schools

Cloud envisions improved technical and vocational education as a key area of need in Ohio. "The big lack we have in an industrial state like this is trained technicians," he said.

The trend is toward improving technical and vocational facilities, he observed, and as this occurs there will be more competition for the property tax dollar.

Dollar competition was one of the main arguments voiced by opponents of the original bill. School organizations and municipal groups charged that enactment of a school income tax could shut the lid forever on the real estate tax coffers and could jeopardize city income taxes.

He Heeds Argument

Cloud doesn't buy that argument but he's heeding it nevertheless.

"I don't want anyone to say next fall that this bill was to blame for the loss of a school levy," he said. "That's the only reason I would exclude local schools from the bill."

But Porterfield, head of the House Taxation Committee, still has reservations about what effect even a revised bill might have in income tax cities.

"You've put your finger on the one objection I think is valid," he said. "It's the only thing I don't like about this bill."

Porterfield, however, is all for lending an assist to technical and vocational schools.

"The truth is we've never given them much financial help," he said.

$200,000 for Techs

Gov. Rhodes' proposed budget allows $200,000 for technical education for the biennium. That's an average of $200,000 for each technical school now operating. The bulk of technical school operating cash is provided in National Defense Education Act matching funds.

Cloud is confident he can get a revised bill to the House floor but he doesn't intend to rush it.

"A partial reason for the delay so far is that there is so much school legislation to be coordinated with this bill," he said, "and I just haven't had a chance to turn my personal attention to it before now."

"You just can't get all these

Leukemia Fatal to Browns' Star

Ernie Davis, Grid Great, Succumbs

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Ernie Davis, the nation's top collegiate football player of 1961, died in Lakeside Hospital early today.

The 23-year-old All-America half-back and Heisman Trophy winner was stricken with leukemia at the College All-Star camp last July and was prevented from playing with the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League last season.

He underwent a conditioning program after the football season ended and played basketball with a team of Browns' players, but quit in February. He had been working on a film study for the Browns.

A spokesman for the Browns said funeral arrangements have not been completed, but said services probably would be held Monday or Tuesday in Elmira, N.Y., Davis' home town.

Davis died at 2 a.m., but the announcement was withheld by the Browns for nearly seven hours until his next of kin were notified.

He entered the hospital Thursday afternoon, apparently unaware that death was imminent. He told Browns' officials he probably would be out in a couple of days. He had been undergoing periodic checkups at the hospital for several months.

Arthur B. Modell, Browns' president, said, "It will be a long time before we see a boy like Ernie Davis again, as an athlete or as a man."

The diagnosis of acute leukemia was withheld from Davis and the public for several weeks. Doctors first diagnosed it definitely in an Evanston, Ill., hospital last Aug. 1. It later was confirmed by seven

GSA Seeking Bids On Old Post Office

The General Services Administration is putting Salem's abandoned post office building at the downtown corner of E. State St. and N. Lincoln Ave. up for sale.

Bids will be accepted until 3 p.m. June 20.

The GSA's decision to try to sell the brick structure follows the Board of Education's recent decision not to try and obtain the building for administrative offices as originally planned.

The Home Savings & Loan Co. has expressed an interest in the site for the erection of a modern bank building and will submit a bid for the old post office, it is understood. Officers of the company have inspected the site on several occasions.

The property, approximately 0.3812 acre of land, is improved with a one-story building with mezzanine and a full basement. Construction is of steel frame, concrete floor slabs, brick foundation and walls and stone exterior. The total floor area is approximately 11,950 square feet.

Dominic A. Tesaro, regional administrator, General Services Administration, announced today that sealed bids will be opened at the Business Service Center, General Services Administration, 575 U. S. Courthouse, 219 S. Clark St., Chicago 4, Illinois.

Wallace Challenges JFK's Use Of Troops

Kennedy Urges Rejection of Race Prejudice

Addresses Nashville Citizens on 30th TVA Anniversary

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—President Kennedy ventured into the restive South today to appeal for public rejection of "the temptations of prejudice and violence" at a time of "tragic disorder."

In a major address prepared for citizens of this city where racial violence has flared sporadically in recent weeks, Kennedy made no effort to duck the powder-keg desegregation issue.

Words Moderate In Tone

Still, his words were moderate in tone and represented a plea that community leaders work toward the day when "all Americans enjoy equal opportunity and liberty under the law."

While noting "a continuing debate" about civil rights, Kennedy said he would speak "not of your rights as Americans but of your responsibility."

And, in this connection, he emphasized respect for the law.

Kennedy reasoned that one man's defiance of the law or a court order inspires defiance by others, "leading to a breakdown of all justice and order."

Kennedy flew to Nashville to help celebrate the 30th anniversary of the Tennessee Valley Authority and the 90th anniversary of Vanderbilt University, whose 34,000-seat football stadium he used as his forum.

Meeting With Wallace

Ahead lay speaking stops in Alabama—at Muscle Shoals and Huntsville. Waiting to join him in those communities was Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace—an outspoken Kennedy critic who has promised to physically bar an expected desegregation attempt next month at the Huntsville branch of the University of Alabama.

Vanderbilt has a biracial policy with Negroes attending its graduate and divinity schools. No Negroes, however, are enrolled in the undergraduate school.

Kennedy, in his Nashville address, aimed his remarks at Vanderbilt alumni and other "educated citizens" who, he said, bear a particular obligation to pursue learning, serve the public and uphold the law.

"In these moments of tragic disorder," he said, "a special burden rests on the educated men and women of our country—to reject the temptations of prejudice and violence, and to reaffirm the values of freedom and law on which our society depends."

Declaring that the nation and the world have "watched recent events in the United States with alarm and dismay," Kennedy did not specifically mention violence in Nashville, Birmingham, Ala., and other communities where Negroes have demonstrated for

Ponders Stronger Action

U.S. Imposes Limited Boycott Against Haiti

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has imposed a limited diplomatic boycott against the Haitian government of Francois Duvalier as a sign of disapproval while it debates whether stronger action is advisable.

A State Department spokesman said Friday night that U.S. Ambassador Raymond Thurston and his staff at Port au Prince have avoided all contact with the Duvalier regime since Tuesday.

The spokesman said U.S. relations with Haiti have not been suspended. Thurston is to continue in his post, the spokesman said, depending a further decision on what U.S. policy should be.

Keenan To Quit Yugoslav Post

Diplomat Returning To Academic Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — George F. Kennan, a recognized expert on communism and a top figure in American diplomacy, will resign this fall as ambassador to Yugoslavia.

In making this announcement Friday, the White House said the 59-year-old diplomat is returning to academic life and that no decision has been reached on a successor.

Kennan "has informed the President that he feels it necessary to return this autumn to his academic duties," the White House said, and the resignation is "in accord with ambassador Kennan's long standing plans."

Envoy in Belgrade since March 7, 1961, Kennan took a leave of absence from the Institute for Advanced Studies at Princeton, N.J., to return to government service.

A former ambassador to the Soviet Union, Kennan was eased out of the State department in 1953 by Republican Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. The reported reason was differences with the Eisenhower administration on foreign policy.

Speaking Friday in Belgrade, Kennan indicated such was not the case with the Kennedy administration.

"I much regret that certain press reports have given the impression that I felt my views had not been sufficiently heeded by the administration. This is incorrect," Kennan said.

"I am greatly appreciative of the confidence shown in me by the President and the secretary of state and of the consideration they have at all times given to my views and reports."

Striking a note of criticism, Kennan added that "certain measures affecting Yugoslavia taken by the last Congress were, indeed, a great disappointment to me." He referred here to the removal of the most favored nation clause in trade with Yugoslavia.

Astronaut To Address Congress

Honolulu Welcomes Awaiting Cooper

ABOARD USS KEARSARGE APPROACHING HONOLULU (AP) — Gordon Cooper comes "home" to Honolulu today and the first of a series of welcomes honoring his heroic feat of orbiting the earth 22 times in a 34-hour tour through space.

On the agenda were parades and receptions in Honolulu, at Cape Canaveral, Washington and New York, including a meeting with President Kennedy and an address to a joint meeting of Congress on Tuesday.

Reunion With Family

First in both time and importance for the quiet-spoken 36-year-old Oklahoma airman was a reunion at Hickam Air Force Base at 1 p.m. Honolulu time with his wife, Trudy, and daughters Camala, 14, and Janita, 13.

The Cooper family arrived in Honolulu late Friday.

The 41,000-ton carrier Kearsarge, which plucked Major Cooper out of the Pacific 96 miles southeast of Midway Thursday afternoon, plowed along at 25 knots to keep the appointment.

It was in Honolulu that the Cooper met and married in 1947 when they were University of Hawaii students.

To Leave For Canaveral

After a downtown parade and receptions at Iolani Palace, the statehouse that once was the seat of Hawaiian royalty, and at the home of Gov. John A. Burns, the Coopers were scheduled to leave by jet plane at 8:30 p.m. for Cape Canaveral.

It was from Cape Canaveral that he rocketed off to glory last Wednesday morning.

Civic ceremonies at nearby Co. Oa Beach, Fla., and a day of rest will precede the visit to Washington Tuesday.

President Kennedy laid out a reception in the White House rose garden, and congressional leaders invited Cooper to speak to a joint meeting.

John Glenn, the first American to go into orbit, addressed a joint meeting last year. Cooper will be flanked by Glenn and the other five original astronauts of Project Mercury.

To Salute Achievement

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who announced the invitation to Cooper, said it was arranged both to salute his outstanding space accomplishment and to mark the presumed conclusion of the Mercury space project.

Next after Mercury will be the Gemini project, to put two men into orbit in a single capsule. The goal beyond Gemini will be manned flight to the moon.

New York will honor Cooper and his family Wednesday with a traditional ticker tape parade.

Governor Files Petition In Supreme Court

Asks President's Action Be Ruled Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON (AP) Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama asked the U.S. Supreme Court today to find that President Kennedy violated the Constitution by sending federal troops into Alabama for possible use in the Birmingham racial dispute.

The governor's formal challenge of the President's action came only a few hours before the two men were to meet at Muscle Shoals, Ala., where Kennedy was speaking at ceremonies marking the 30th anniversary of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Both also were scheduled to appear at an Armed Forces Day observance at the Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala.

Alert Army Units

Kennedy announced last Sunday night that Army units had been alerted for possible riot duty in Birmingham. About 3,000 men were moved on a standby basis into Army and Air Force installations at Anniston and Montgomery, Ala.

Wallace's suit, filed directly in the Supreme Court today, asked for both temporary and permanent restraining orders against the use of federal forces.

It named as defendants the United States of America and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Court attendants said that under normal procedure Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his subordinates probably would be given time to answer the Alabama petition. Then the court would consider the matter at one of its closed conferences.

Urges Prompt Action

Wallace's petition said the court has authority to take direct action in the dispute and urged it to do so promptly.

It is rare that an action is filed directly before the Supreme Court, which under most circumstances is limited to hearing appeals from lower courts.

The high court does have prime jurisdiction, however, over suits between states and between a state and the federal government.

The suit papers, which Wallace signed in Montgomery Friday, said that Birmingham, Jefferson County and Alabama officials are able to maintain order.

The suit said that the President "did direct the defendant Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense, to send members of the armed forces into the State of Alabama" on May 12, acting allegedly, Wallace said in an effort to suppress domestic violence.

The petition contended that this was "unconstitutional and void" and urged the highest court to so find.

The petition said that the federal forces "are deployed presently in the city of Birmingham, Ala., and at two federal reservations, viz: Ft. McClellan, Ala., and Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., and that the President of the United States has threatened to use said armed forces in Birmingham, State of Alabama, for the alleged purpose of suppressing domestic violence, all in violation of the sovereignty of the State of Alabama and the Constitution of the United States."

The petition charged that on or before May 12, "Martin Luther King, Fred Shuttlesworth, Ralph Abernathy, Wyatt Lee Walker and other Negroes had led or incited unlawful parades and racial demonstrations."

400 Negroes Are Jailed In N. Carolina

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—An estimated 400 Negro demonstrators were jailed Friday night in the third consecutive night of mass protests against segregated facilities in downtown Greensboro.

Police, caught short of transportation facilities when 241 students were arrested Wednesday night, pressed private vehicles and a bus into service to move the demonstrators to city hall for booking.

The students, orderly and patient as on previous nights, filed silently into the vehicle and burst into song as the line of cars, paddy wagons and bus moved through the city's business district.

Desk sergeants spent most of the night processing the students on charges of trespass or violation of fire law by blocking public entrances.

Rain delayed the start of Friday night's demonstration more than an hour. The students, all from the state-supported North Carolina At College eight blocks from downtown, waited out the rain in a prayer service at a church near the campus.

Police released those who were arrested for the first time. Cash bonds of $100 were required for those who had been arrested previously.

Peronists Banned From Top Posts

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Uneasy Argentina braced today for more trouble as President Jose Maria Guido banned followers of ex-dictator Juan D. Peron from seeking executive posts in July 7 elections.

Guido's decree barred candidates of the Peronist-front Union Popular Party from running for president, vice president, governor or mayor. They were limited to contesting legislative posts.

There was no immediate reaction from the Peronists, but repercussions were considered a certainty.

At stake in the elections, in addition to federal executive and legislative posts, are the governorships and legislatures of 22 provinces and the mayorships, councils and boards of education in thousands of municipalities.

Military leaders quarreling over the role Peronists should be permitted in the elections have brought Argentina to the brink of civil war twice in the last 12 months and caused nine major governmental crises. The latest came only last week when most of the cabinet resigned.

Peronist leader Raul Matara warned earlier this week that if Peronists were banned from running for office they would boycott the elections and urge all other political parties to follow suit.

Several major parties have declared opposition to bans on Peronists, who claim a following of about 3 million in a total electorate of about 10 million.

Guido said he adopted the decree regretfully because the activities of some Union Popular leaders "are not too clear" and the "government is determined to prevent the return of the Peronist regime."

Cut Foreseen In Strawberry Yield

Prospects for County Peach Harvest Dim

Fruit harvest prospects for fruit producers in Columbiana County have been lessened by the severe winter and low temperatures during the spring season, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Severe damages were caused to peach trees by the low winter temperatures, and the Ohio commercial peach crop appears to be a total loss. Peach trees were severely frozen, and many killed.

Orchard producers are pessimistic about the future of the trees which do live, because, following such winter damages, diseases and other problems develop which make maintaining the trees a problem.

MANY PRODUCERS IN Columbiana County either have or are planning to push out their established injured trees and re-set young trees. Several years will be required for the young trees to come into production, Myers said.

The same situation exists for peaches in the other mid-west states, Myers said. Fair peach prospects are reported for Arkansas, Virginia, and the East, and parts of Pennsylvania, New York and Michigan. Georgia and South Carolina have prospects of near normal crops.

Little winter injury to strawberries has been observed; however, the recent frosts at bud and bloom stage reduced the expected crop prospects. Some producers state recent freezes will reduce their crops by 25-40 per cent and severely curtail the early varieties.

APPLE FLOWER BUDS apparently came through the winter better than those of many other tree fruits. However the recent frosts at the bloom and fruit set stage will reduce the yield of several varieties. Several Columbiana County producers estimate 30 per cent reduction in yield of several varieties, including the Red Delicious. The amount of damage varies with the location of the trees and management practices, Myers said.

In most cases the cherry crop will be reduced. Sweet cherry varieties show considerable winter injury and bud killing.

MANY PLUM FLOWER buds were killed during the winter. Indications are the crop will be cut considerably.

Flower buds of pears seem to have survived the winter fairly well, but the crop may be slightly less than normal.

River-Lake Road Group to Convene

The Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association will elect five men to its Board of Directors at its annual business meeting Monday, May 27, at the Town and Country Motel at Warren.

The business session will follow a dinner at 6:30 p.m. J. Paul Mossman of Youngstown, president of the four-county group, will preside.

The group is composed of civic leaders in Columbiana, Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula Counties, with the primary objective of giving continued encouragement to construction of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway, which eventually will link East Liverpool and Ashtabula.

Each county has representation on the board. Columbiana County is represented by Atty. Francis H. Lang of East Liverpool, immediate past president; E. R. Chandler, executive manager of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, and A. P. Morris of Salem, manager of the Columbiana County Motor Club.

The business meeting will include a progress report on construction of the lake-river road, officially designated as State Route 11.

JFK Plans Meeting With Pope John

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, the nation's first Roman Catholic chief executive, will meet in Italy next month with Pope John XXIII, the ailing leader of his faith.

Kennedy once planned to defer an audience with the 81-year-old pontiff until he makes a scheduled state visit to Italy with Mrs. Kennedy early next year. He changed plans because of the Pope's failing health.

There have been published reports that Pope John has cancer. In recent public appearances, he has looked gray and drawn.

Kennedy is expected to leave for Italy on June 20 and spend two or three days there before flying on to West Germany and Ireland.

Arrangements for the papal audience for Kennedy are being arranged in exchanges between U.S. officials and the Vatican. No meeting site has been selected, but the pontiff's quarters in the Vatican or his nearby summer palace, Castel Gondolfo, seem the most likely choices.

At this point, it is virtually certain Kennedy will conduct his working sessions with Italian government officials in Rome. As recently as a month ago, these conferences were tentatively scheduled for a secluded retreat near Milan, in northern Italy.

Milan became the temporary choice following the Easter Monday announcement that Mrs. Kennedy expects her third child late in August. Prior to that, she had planned to accompany her husband on a June state visit to Rome. Now the state visit has been postponed until early 1964.

THE FAST PACE OF LIFE

You'll find lots of people concerned about the tempo of life today. But most of them simply catch a breath when they can, and try to keep up with the pace.

There is something more important!

The winner trains . . . and plans his race. He may lag behind for a while, but he is confident of hidden resources. When others have burned up their energy and enthusiasm, he forges to the front. As they wilt in the home stretch, he sprints across the finish line.

The Church can help you train . . . and plan! A Christian is concerned with his own spiritual stamina rather than the fast pace of life. He is ready with hidden resources when the moment of challenge comes.

District's Industries

The Salem District's diversity of industry, providing steady employment to thousands, is the real economic backbone of the community.

Each individual concern, whether it be large factory or small, has been able to progress in its own particular manner succeeding in the free enterprise system which sometimes sees small shops envelop into fairly large concerns. Salem and a number of communities in northern Columbiana County are fortunate to have this diversification of industry. Furthermore, it is being expanded.

A pleasantly-surprising event of recent weeks here was the Mullins Manufacturing Corporation's claim to fame again as the city's largest employer, with 677 on the payroll. This includes 571 hourly workers and 106 salaried employees and the total employment figure is expected to rise still further.

MULLINS RETURNED TO SALEM during the past year after abandoning its Warren operation and centralizing all manufacturing facilities here. One hundred and thirty workers still commute between Salem and Warren but they are paying Salem city income tax and spending other money in Salem. A number are expected to move to town now that the Mullins situation is stabilized and a new office building is being erected for all key personnel.

Mullins' employment is slightly above that of the E. W. Bliss Company, another stable Salem industry, which has 633 at work at the present time. At the Deming Division of the Crane Company, 494 are at work and 493 are employed at the Eljer Division plant of the Murray Corporation of America.

Fortunately, Salem has many employers. At the Salem China Company, for example, 327 persons are on the job, the Electric Furnace Company employs 204 and Hunt Valve Division, 171. Statistics at the Ohio State Employment office also show the following at work: United Tool & Die Co., 111; Salem Label Co., 85; Church Budget Envelope and Budget Press, 125; Salem Tool Co., 61; Nease Chemical, a comparatively new plant, 27; Sebring Container Corp., also new, 38; Barclay Machine Co., another new local manufacturer, 21; Sekely Tool & Die, 43; Miller-Holzwarth, 38; Sterling Boat Trailers, 32; Schnell Tool Q Die, 48; Lincoln Machine, 60; and there are others, including the Salem News where 47 work.

ELSEWHERE IN THE DISTRICT we have these employment figures:

Columbiana — Kaiser Refractories, 203; National Rubber Machinery Co., 572; Columbiana Pump Co., 141; Enterprise Co., 100; Columbiana Boiler Co., 62; Franklin Furniture Co., 103; Columbiana Foundry, 43, and Harold Tool Co., 31.

Leetonia — Berg Bretzel, Potato Chip plant, 125; Fordees Company, 50, and Leetonia Tool Co., 20.

Lisbon — Thomas Works of H.K. Porter Co., 137; Buckeye Coal Co., 56; Industrial Mining Co., 40; Chester Hoist Division, 47.

East Palestine — Royal China Co., 387; Kenmar Mfg. Co., 188; Adamson Co., 119; Pittsburgh Chair Co., 62; Natco Corp., 102; L. W. Nash Co., 90; M. & W. Electric Co., 57; Electrical Refractories, 53, and Fitzpatrick Industries, 49.

IF YOU'VE READ THIS FAR you are probably already impressed with the large number of firms in operation in the northern Columbiana County, and without a doubt we inadvertently missed a few. New industries are coming, too, a large one in Salem and a smaller one at Columbiana.

This newspaper shares the optimism and enthusiasm of the majority of the countians who envision even greater days ahead in prosperity and progress for the whole area. So, the next time someone tells you "business is terrible; the town's going to the dogs," tell him to "get lost."

Those Who Go First

Gordon Cooper was aloft only a few minutes more than Charles A. Lindbergh on his solo flight across the Atlantic May 20-21, 1927.

Lindbergh covered 3,610 in 33 hours and 29 minutes. Cooper traveled the distance to the moon and back, with tens of thousands of miles to spare.

Cooper's space capsule floated through space at 17,000 miles an hour. Lindbergh's primitive contraption of the early air age chugged through the Atlantic mists at a speed a little more than 100 miles an hour.

EVERYTHING about these two feats occurring 36 years apart on almost the same dates in May is different, except the kind of men who performed them.

Americans honor Maj. Cooper, as they have honored his predecessor astronauts — Shepard, Grissom, Glenn, Carpenter and Schirra. All are honored, as are their Russian counterparts, for their pioneering courage at the beginning of the space age adventure.

But the adventure did not start with them. It started with the first man who climbed to the top of the mountain to see what was on the other side. It has been carried through history by all explorers, frontiersmen, breakers of new trails — all the dauntless human beings who want to be where no man ever was before.

These are the people who are first on all the new frontiers.

NOTHING can be gained from comparing them with one another. The comparison between all of them and all the rest of us is revealing, however.

Could we have clung to the stick of the Spirit of St. Louis as it labored across the North Atlantic hour after hour?

Could we have climbed Mt. Everest, gone looking for a more direct route to the East Indies, steered a frail ship into the Straits of Magellan, let ourselves be strapped into a Mercury capsule for an orbital flight?

All credit and all glory to those who go first!

Teen-agers sometimes are considered ignorant because they don't know things it takes 40 to 50 years to learn.

The only time a traffic light is green in both directions is during the testimony of two drivers who have been in a smashup.

Our Appearance

Clean Up week is over in Salem but a number of other communities round about us are observing clean up days, all designed to encourage everyone to tidy up a bit, and repair and paint where necessary. Spring sales in local stores are indicative of increased purchases of paint and other fixin' up materials.

The average Salemite takes pride in the appearance of his home and surroundings and many compliments on the general appearance of the community have come from visitors from time to time. If everyone shares this responsibility, our neat, well-kept appearance can be one of our best recommendations because when people really care, a community is bound to have attributes that make the ole home town better than some other city.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

It is not that Birmingham is worse than places in other countries that have racial violence, which breaks out all over this earth. It's that Birmingham might be no better than other places — and if that happened what would become of the American ideal of equal opportunity for all?

I have formulated a rule for gardening, which in my view should be pleasurable or regarded as not worth the effort. Whenever the temperature is such that a gardener's nose is cold and, er, wet, gardening isn't worth the effort.

Some of the grimmest consequences of a horrible winter are coming to light in shrubs of damage done to hedges, bushes, shrubs and even trees. Mortality was high in plantings that had been nursed along for years — so high here is one discouraged landscaper who has no intention of replacing what was killed.

There is one version of maintaining law and order that goes like this, translated from the Southern drawl: You-all maintain law and order by letting me put mah foot on your neck, according to my regulations.

If it makes the Cuban situation easier to bear, think of Cuba as the Soviet Union — most expensive "foreign aid" project — an outlay estimated at $1 million a day to keep anti-Communism at bay.

When I read about how much it costs to make even slight repairs of damage done to youth by big-city slum environments, I wonder if it wouldn't be cheaper to prohibit slums altogether even if it meant loss of the political machine vote that controls the electoral college in presidential elections.

The next time you argue about euthanasia, point out that euthanasia for animals is not for their sake but to relieve the person having them euthanized and this would be similarly true about euthanasia for humans.

Anyone who wants to argue about it can count on me to defend the proposition that the prime motivation for human action is the will to oppose. The power of positive thinking is impressive, but exceptional, whereas the power of negative thinking is overwhelming and commonplace.

The vaunted mechanical genius of the American people never took a worse setback than it did when a diesel engine couldn't be started in an emergency at Cape Canaveral. As this fellow sputtered on the phone: "Let's get those fumble-bum civilians out of there and turn it over to the military. Can you imagine what would happen to a sergeant if he couldn't start an engine on command?"

In the saga of the New York Mets, whose fans love 'em because they symbolize the frustration and failure of mankind, suspense will develop if they ever play baseball as if they knew how. It will be imperative to break up any semblance of a winning combination.

The safest rule of conduct is never to tell people they look bad. Always be as considerate as most viewers are when they look at ugly babies; i.e., they mention only the good points.

I have varying degrees of contempt for the people trying to break up this Union but no degree greater than that for knuckleheads who argue the 14th amendment to the Constitution wasn't ratified properly in the first place. If they feel this way, they should propose repeal of the 14th amendment, not subversion of the Constitution.

Terror, Not Poverty, Is Breeder of Communism

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS

The Italian elections have been more unsettling to the New Frontier than at first meets the public eye.

Look below the surface and it will be found that gains made by the Italian Communists constitute a most impudent assault on a pillar of New Frontier ideology: the doctrine that poverty breeds Communism and that the answer, for example, to Moscow's ambitions in this hemisphere is to concentrate south of the border on social reform and the gross national product.

Even in his Moscow - supplied military clothing, Castro is no threat to the United States, according to the New Frontier, and all the psychological, tactical and subversive potential of a Soviet military presence in this hemisphere will be nothing if the good guys (us) can only get to Latin America fastest with the mostest in the way of a rising standard of living.

BUT WAIT just one moment. Isn't this precisely where the Italian elections come in?

In the last year, the Italians have been the stars of Europe economically. In Italy, the standard of living has been rising faster than almost anywhere else, the gross national product has been spurting and the summation of it all is the current phrase "The Italian economic miracle."

So do economic miracles also breed Communism?

It is a silly proposition, but it's useful at least, if it makes the point that the opposite proposition — that poverty breeds Communism — is equally silly if accepted as absolute dogma on the causes and cure of the Communist challenge.

To be specific, the Alliance for Progress is laudable and necessary to the U.S. regardless of the Communist threat, because the long run economic good of this country will be adversely affected if its next-door neighbors remain have-not nations with chaotic and depressed economies.

It is deceiving to pretend, however, that higher standards of living are going to buy off or fend off the Communist challenge. It was not poverty that bred Communism in Cuba. Cuba had the highest standard of living in Latin America prior to Castro, according to such an authority as Dr. Alberto Camargo, an outstanding statesman and former president of Colombia.

It was a political - military revolution that carried Castro to power on the strength of false promises of freedom and an end to the corruption of the Batista regime.

It was not poverty that bred Communism in Viet Nam. In the company of Vietnamese local officials, this reporter has tramped and jeoped through scores of villages in both North and South Viet Nam and has talked with innumerable village elders in areas threatened by the Communists.

Their overwhelming anxiety was whether the authorities could offer them physical protection against the Communist infiltrators that came into the village a dark.

They were not interested in President Diem's views on Western dancing or even — at that moment — in his promises of land reform. They wanted a specific commitment of soldiers to prevent the Communists from cutting off (literally) a village head or two to "bend" one village into collaborating. It was not poverty, but terror, that bred Communism.

IN FACT, in 12 Communist-seized countries visited by this writer, there was not one in which the poor — the workers and peasants — were in the Communist vanguard. It was only a tiny minority of intellectuals who had the leisure and freedom from hard physical work to initiate Communist activity.

At the decisive moment, in areas ranging from the South China Seas to the Caribbean, the Communists won despite high standards of living (as in Czechoslovakia) or low standards of living (as in North Viet Nam) by skillful, relentless use of violence usually abetted by a Red Army.

In Latin America, there is not the slightest reason to believe that the Communists are going to let rising standards of living stand in their way in the future any more than in the past.

Che Guevara, Castro's leading doctrinal strategist, told the London Daily Worker (Dec. 1962) that the Cuban example proved that there is no solution except armed struggle to overthrow governments.

It is fine to fight poverty. It is a mistake to believe that dollars and cents can buy freedom from fighting back against the Communists when they have declared war against those on our side.

The true measure, of course, of the cost to us on the Soviet military presence in the Caribbean is the degree to which it will enhance the Communist prospects in this violent struggle, which the Yankee dollar is powerless to buy off.

In Reply to Lucille Baker

I am proud of the two boys from Salem who are being given the rare opportunity to study music in Europe. When I was 17 years old, these things were not being done.

We, the citizens of Salem and the United States, through the student exchange, are being given the opportunity to send our boys and girls to other countries where they can be our unofficial ambassadors and this is good for everyone.

No one is forced to donate to this fund. If you are asked and want to say "no," I'm sure no one will be offended. I'm just jealous that I never had the chance to do what they are doing.

Writer Apologizes

This is to apologize to the two boys who are going to Europe on a concert tour, and to Mr. Miller about my letter that was in the Salem News May 16. The writer was misinformed about the situation and events of the season.

The New Reuther

By VICTOR RIESEL

There's now more rusty brown among the red in Walter Reuther's hair — and one of those who sat with him here the other day quipped,

"It's no sign the fire has gone out of him — he has mellowed, he's moving more cautiously, quietly, challenging other forces less frequently, less publicly. But watch his organization drives. These have the logistics and strategy of military methodology."

This was the comment after Reuther met with some 70 national union chiefs, the high command of the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Dept., (IUD), in a closed skull session at the International Inn in Washington recently.

Reuther, his own United Auto Workers (UAW) union now solid with assets of more than $70 million, spoke of the new campaign which will take him and his contingents into the South, into the new missile bases and test centers, into the gargantuan white-collar field, into the surging ranks of technicians and scientists, into the school systems, as well as the old, formerly unconquerable areas of Southern textiles and the Du Pont corporation.

THERE WAS one moment in his private hour-long report which was more revealing than virtually all else he said. He spoke of the department's plans to attempt to unionize the Texas Instrument Co. He is president of the department, which resembles the old CIO.

Good humoredly he said his own union already was in jurisdictional conflict with the department's secretary treasurer, the mercurial Jim Carey.

The dispute is over which union, the auto workers or Carey's International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), should have final jurisdiction over a still unorganized Texas Instrument electronics plant.

Reuther reported his close

friend Carey had claimed that the plant fell into the category of electrical workers. Reuther retorted that electronics was no industry but "a technology."

Whatever it is, it's a vast new frontier and the auto union is preparing to move on it through a comparatively new UAW division called the "Technical, Office and Professional Department."

THE UAW is already in action seeking to build it into a vast international section crossing the United States and Canada.

Its goal, with 35,000 white-collar employees already signed up, is another 100,000 such workers employed by auto companies — and scores of thousands of technicians in the new industries of the space age.

But Reuther is setting no quotas, nor does he seek publicity on the drives. Quietly he is building up his special force of union organizers across the country. He estimates he will need 300 as a beginning.

They will work out of five central headquarters already set up without fanfare — one in the Boston area, others in Houston, Philadelphia, Charlotte, N.C., and the Chicago district.

The pool of organizers comes from the unions involved. Each man is being carefully selected. Already 38 have been assigned to Boston; 29 to Philadelphia; 43 to Chicago; 36 to Texas; 41 for the South, mostly in South Carolina.

This comes to 187 full time organizers, answering not to their own unions, but to their regional central headquarters.

The sectional command posts report to a special IUD operational committee made up of one representative from each union which has joined in the coordinated unionizing drive.

REUTHER HAS it all reckoned. He figures that each organizer costs some $1,200 a month not including regional. This comes to some $225,000 a month not including regional headquarters cost — even in low gear.

The drive operate on an initial $4 million budget. There will be more if needed. The deadline for a final count is in June '64. After that date Reuther and his colleagues will plunge deeply into the campaign to re-elect John F. Kennedy.

If their organizing drive succeeds, they will have cracked previously untouchable areas in the South — and many of the du Pont de Nemours plants.

Should the drive corral hundreds of thousands of new members — such as the 30,000 who have just signed up with the State, County and Municipal Workers and the 40,000 New York school teachers with whom Reuther had worked quietly — he will turn to the national AFL-CIO itself and insist that it go for broke.

Since Reuther also is national chairman of the AFL-CIO Organizing Committee, he would have lines will come. Until then, Reuther will move with "cautious optimism."

It is a new Reuther, his colleagues and critics are saying. If he succeeds he will be a far more influential one than the old Reuther — politically as well as industrially.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: When I saw in the paper that you went to Russia a couple of years ago I figured you were a Commie. Now, after reading your answer to "Proud American," I am sure of it.

Just because the man wrote and said he was sick and tired of seeing foreigners come over here and get rich while red-blooded Americans can't even find jobs you called him an "ignorant malcontent."

The foreigners are the ignorant malcontents. That's why they come here to get rich. These foreign pigs elbow their way in by the millions.

And what do they do when they get here? They criticize our government, our manners, our schools and our children. No matter where they came from it was always better "over there."

The foreigners worm their way into factories and businesses, starting at the bottom, pretending to be grateful and humble, and before you know it they are in the top jobs and the true Americans are out on the street.

I'm in favor of shipping five million foreigners right back to where they came from and giving them their jobs to deserving unemployed Americans. — FLAG WAYER AND PROUD OF IT.

Dear Flag Wayer: Here you for your point of view. Thank you, another letter — on the same subject.

Dear Ann: I was deeply interested in your splendid reply to "Proud American" who complained because foreigners were coming over here taking jobs which should be reserved for "true Americans."

Over the last 10 years more than 100,000 immigrants entered this country, bringing with them skills declared to be in critically short supply in the United States.

One of our most serious shortages, according to the U.S. Department of Labor, is in the field of engineering. Of the 100,000 especially skilled immigrants who entered this country in the past decade 31,000 were engineers. This represents 80 per cent of the number of engineers graduated from United States schools during 1961.

Immigrants are making essential and laudable contributions to our country. They are not displacing "true Americans," they are creating jobs for Americans by contributing to this country's economy.—R.N.W. OF THE U.S. COMMITTEE FOR REFUGEES.

Punitive Mate

Dear Ann: My husband is a good father and an excellent provider — of material things, that is. He is active in church work and civic affairs, reads a lot and considers himself an authority on many subjects.

This man runs 10 feet ahead of me when we walk to church and shouts, "Look out for the cars or you'll be run over." He never has opened a car door for me, lit my cigarette, helped me with my coat or allowed me to use the cream or sugar first. Often he is the only male in the room who does not stand when a lady enters.

I've been correcting him about these things for almost 20 years, which of course makes me a nag and a shrew. Am I wrong to feel that a man owes it to his wife to behave in a fairly civilized manner. What can I do to make him see it my way—RATHER STAY HOME.

Dear Rather: If you've been unable to make a dent in 20 years you may as well save your breath to cool your soup. At first his poor manners may have been traceable to ignorance but now they are punitive.

People who behave badly to punish others only make themselves look ugly.

So They Say

Even should we find out the moon is soft and is made of green cheese, it will have been worth every cent of it.

—Rocketeer Werner von Braun, on the $20 billion moon landing program.

I'm exactly what I hoped to be some day—a wife and mother. I wanted this kind of life even when I was a child star.

—Shirley Temple, 35.

DIXON SCHOOL'S all-purpose room was decorated to resemble a Roman house, as a setting for the annual Latin Club banquet held recently by students of Mrs. Margaret Ferrall's Latin classes at Columbiana High School.

A Roman wedding was featured, followed by a slave auction, after which the freshman class served a coverdinner to the sophomore class members.

Co-chairmen for the banquet were Diane Lindsay and John Dunbar who also served as masters of ceremonies.

School officials and their wives attended the event and a retired airman, Robert McIntire, showed slides he took in Europe.

Representatives from Latin Clubs of Beaver Local, Crestview, Lisbon, North Lima and East Palestine schools were also present.

Members of the Columbiana Boat and Ski Club will participate in a cruise on Turkey Foot Lake near Akron Sunday.

Ohio School Bond Issue Predicted for Fall Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Barring possible legal complications, it's almost a cinch that Ohio voters will be asked next November to authorize $200 million in bonds for state university and public school buildings.

Democrats, who say frankly they aren't enthusiastic about bond financing for public improvements are expected to provide the Re-

Kennedy

quicker desegregation and more employment opportunities.

But he acknowledged the complex background of these events without excusing them.

"No one can deny the complexity of the problems involved in assuring to all our citizens their full rights as Americans. But no one can gainsay the fact that the determination to secure those rights is in the highest traditions of American freedom."

Kennedy said the educated citizen "knows that only a respect for the law makes it possible for free men to dwell together in peace and progress." And, said the President, "he knows, too, that every fellow man is entitled to be regarded with decency and treated with dignity."

Putting a reverse twist on his argument, Kennedy said:

"Any educated citizen who seeks to subvert the law, to suppress freedom, or to subject other human beings to acts that are less than human, degrades his heritage, ignores his learning and betrays his obligation."

If others respect the rule of force, he said, "we respect the rule of law." And if others press their views through terror and repression, "we adjust our differences through courts and conciliation."

In discussing education, Kennedy said that "only an educated and informed people will be a free people—that the ignorance of one voter in a democracy impairs the security of all."

Kennedy said at the outset that "many causes and concerns bring us together today." He mentioned first the Vanderbilt birthday, noting that Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt endowed the university with the hope that it would help conciliate North and South following the Civil War.

The university, said Kennedy, has "not only an endowment but an enduring mission of reconciliation."

He added:

"Ninety years from now, I have no doubt, Vanderbilt University will still fulfill this mission."

As for the TVA, he said this federal program "transformed a parched, depressed and flood-ravaged region into a fertile, productive center of industry, science and agriculture."

One of Kennedy's missions at the Vanderbilt stadium was to push a gold key to set off a dynamite blast and formally start construction of Cordell Hull Dam on the Cumberland River. Said the President:

"We are saluting—by initiating construction of a dam in his name—a great Tennessee statesman, Cordell Hull, the father of reciprocal trade, the grandfather of the United Nations, the secretary of state who presided over the transformation of this country's foreign policy from a state of oblivious leadership."

things coordinated until near the end of the session."

Board of Regents

House-Senate conferees trying to end a legislative impasse over the administration's Ohio Board of Regents bill haven't met for two weeks and probably won't until they hear from Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe.

Saxbe has been asked to rule on the constitutionality of a provision in the education measure that would give the right of eminent domain to private colleges and universities with less than $12.5 million endowments.

Rep. Harry Jump, R-Huron, a House conferee and cosponsor of the regents bill said the committee feels there is no point in debating other disputed sections until Saxbe gives an opinion.

Taking It For Granted

Laughter rippled through the House galleries the other day when Speaker Roger Cloud introduced visiting students from "the W. S. Grant High School."

Puzzled by the reaction, Cloud scowled at the note before him identifying the group.

"Well, I guess that could be the U.S. Grant High School," he mused, "but I think someone in that group could use a little homework in penmanship."

Observed a wag at the press tables: "Roger did that on purpose—he opposes U.S. grants to education."

medical experts who examined laboratory specimens in Cleveland. Browns' club officials held an "off-the-record" news conference on Aug. 9 to explain the situation to news media representatives. It was at that conference that information was relayed on a confidential basis that Davis had only six to 12 months to live.

Davis attended the big double-header exhibition football game in Cleveland on the night of last Aug. 18. As he was introduced, Davis walked across the field in the spotlight, to a tremendous ovation from the 77,683 fans.

Later in the dressing room, Davis said it was a thrill for him to attend the game and see his teammates. Davis had attended a couple of practice sessions at Hiram College, each time accompanied by a hospital attendant.

It was evident that Davis was unaware of his condition that night. He thanked many of the players as they trooped by and gave him their good wishes. Davis stood shyly in a corner sipping a soft drink as the players whooped it up in the dressing room.

Car Insurance Rates In Ohio To Be Slashed

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Relatively safe driving is going to pay off for Ohio motorists.

Insurance Supt. William R. Morris said yesterday that most Ohio owners of private cars and commercial vehicles will share in a 2-million insurance rate reduction by mid-July.

His announcement followed conferences with officials of insurance firms.

Tighter Security Measures Are Ordered In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A tighter weekend lies ahead for racially troubled Birmingham with threats of renewed bombings reported.

While the stage was set for a meeting of President Kennedy and Alabama's segregationist Gov. George C. Wallace in north Alabama, police here ordered Kennedy and Wallace were expected to meet at a Tennessee Valley Authority anniversary observance at Muscle Shoals, where the President is scheduled to speak.

While rumors forecast an uneasy weekend, police chief Jamie Moore said: "We are taking precautions which we consider necessary."

Although he declined to elaborate, armed guards were posted at some buildings which could possibly be targets of bombers. Highway patrolmen guarded the streets, as they have since last weekend's violence.

Anonymous telephone threats have been received by Negro leader, some white businessmen and various places of business.

In other developments: —Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said at Asheville, N.C., that damage inflicted upon the U.S. image abroad by incidents like the Birmingham racial crisis is great, but superficial.

—The effects of racial strife here dominated the Alabama legislature at Montgomery as lawmakers voted to stand solidly behind Wallace, who challenged Kennedy's sending of 3,000 riot-trained soldier to bases in Alabama.

—Birmingham police commissioner Eugene (Bull) Connor urged the people to leave the handling of racial demonstrations to law enforcement officers. He spoke to the Montgomery Citizens Council.

—Four Negroes and five white persons were named to a biracial committee by the Anniston City Commission to help solve any racial problems existing in that Alabama city.

—The city of Huntsville, Ala., site of Redstone Arsenal and the Marshall Space Flight Center, hired its first Negro policeman, and the Madison County Commission voted to remove white and Negro signs from the courthouse at Huntsville.

—U.S. District Judge H. Hobart Grooms refused to order the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa to produce files of students who have applied for admittance since last February. Three Negroes are seeking admittance to the school.

The men Wallace named are Negro ministers and leaders of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

It also cited two bombing incidents in Birmingham by unknown parties and added that "hundreds of Negroes rioted and caused severe personal injuries and property damage within the city."

Mullins, who suffered abrasions of the left hand, was cited for excessive speed for road conditions after he lost control of his car on a curve and went off the east side of the road.

Following treatment at the Salem City Hospital for bruises of the right shoulder and abrasions of the right leg, Hower was incarcerated in the Columbiana County Jail in Lisbon on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. His car hit a power pole and the vehicle was extensively damaged.

Roessler was treated for lacerations of the scalp after a collision of his car and the Eastman automobile. As a result of the mishap, a mailbox at the J. B. Atchison residence, 1780 N. Lincoln Ave., Salem, was damaged.

Dear Heloise: I'm 11 years old and love to cook. I get tired of the same things all the time and can imagine other children do too.

I found that if you add cake coloring to oatmeal or grits, etc. it looks like a brand new cereal! I do not advise using green with oatmeal as it tends to look very sickening, however the yellow and a small amount of pink is beautiful.

KELLEN GARBAY.

DEAR GALLS: I have tried this in rice and cooked cereal. The yellow is absolutely lush.

I mixed two drops of yellow coloring with a drop of red and got a beautiful orange in my cooked cereal.

I put this in my water before dumping in the cereal. The orange coloring reminds me of oranges.

The yellow reminds me of golden old-fashioned wheat. Try it, you don't have anything to lose but a couple of drops of coloring. It's great.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: When my daughter was small, her friends that came to play would tell me they had to be home at a certain time. I always set the alarm clock and put it in the room where they were playing.

They seemed to like not being told to leave when it was time to go home. And... there was no danger of my getting busy and forgetting it. And who can argue with an alarm clock?

M.G.M. DEAR HELOISE: If you will glue a piece of foam rubber on the bottom of a portable sewing machine foot control...

Track Officials, Fans Honor Fred Cope At District Meet

A special ceremony took place at the NEO district track meet Friday evening when 23 officials and a crowd of 2,500 fans honored Salem High School Athletic Director Fred Cope at Reilly Stadium.

His teams down through the years were victors in the Salem Night Relays, and Columbiana County champs eight of his 13 years as track coach.

Cope, a Salem native and Mount Union graduate, spent four years at Bucyrus as track coach and returned to Salem in 1933 to stay.

He has been chief track inspector at the state track and field meet in Columbus for the past several years, and at one time was president of the Ohio High School Track Association.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

I want to give my neighbor Fritz Mullen a little plug. Fritz runs the Shell Service Station next door. They are building a frozen custard stand right next to the station which his wife will operate. Her brother and his wife operate a frozen dessert stand in Niles, they live in Lisbon. She will have some good instructors. They stop here almost every night on their way home from Niles.

Fritz seems to be a rather quiet person when you first meet him but he is the kind of a fellow you like better each time you see him.

We have enjoyed having Fritz for a neighbor here. Stop in and see him sometime soon.
